VIDEO REVIEW

Jockey Cheryl Charlton was in the office to review the fifth race from September 18, during which her mount contributed to an incident at the start and also drifted out during the stretch run. While neither incident warranted a suspension, she was cautioned to show us a better effort to prevent interference.

Jockey Felipe Martinez came to the office to review the sixth race from yesterday, as he permitted his mount to drift out during the stretch run and interfered with the eventual winner. Mr. Martinez was candid, stating that he could have made a better effort to maintain a straight course. His candor earned him a warning.
